Notes and News.

DONATIONS.—Amongst the numerous donors whose gifts to the Library e recorded in this number of the Bulletin our special thanks are due Mrs. Delisle Burns, who very kindly asked the Librarian to select ne books from amongst the late Dr. Delisle Burns's. Though the main lk of his library was destroyed some time ago, and of what were left great number were already in this Library, it was still possible to make interesting selection, which is separately recorded at the end of this mber of the Bulletin. Dr. Delisle Burns was a lifelong user of the brary, and we are glad to have this memorial of a happy intercourse many years.

EXHIBITION.—This year we celebrate the fourth centenary of the publi-tion of two books which have made history—Copernicus: De revolu-nibus orbium coelestium, and Vesalius: De humani corporis fabrica. Of e former we are fortunate in possessing an editio princeps. We have no py of the first edition of the Vesalius, but we have a fine copy of the ition of 1725, which has the added interest of having belonged at one ne to George Henry Lewes, and having his autograph on the title-page.

Notes and News.

RUSTEES.—Since the last issue of the Bulletin two Trustees have felt ed to resign, Mr. G. G. Armstrong for reasons of health, and the Rev. on L. Stuart on account of his removal from Brighton to Birmingham. Armstrong was elected a Trustee in 1930 and Mr. Stuart in 1935, and the ces of both to the Trust have deen duly acknowledged by the Trustees.

ISSENTERS CHAPELS BILL.—A hundred years ago, on July the 19th, 1844, was placed on the Statute Book what is generally known as the Dissenters els Bill, being "An Act for the Regulation of Suits relating to Meeting es and other Property held for religious Purposes by Persons dissenting the United Church of England and Ireland."

ne purpose of the Act was to base the right of a nonconformist congrega- to hold its buildings and endowments on the usage of the previous y-five years, and not necessarily upon the original usage of the chapel estion; provided only that no particular doctrine or mode of worship pecifically enjoined in the trust deed.

ne passing of the Act has a double interest for ourselves. It afforded ction, first and foremost, to the particular group of dissenting chapels which Dr. Williams himself had been associated. And, secondly, it n commemoration of the passing of the Act that the building which now s Dr. Williams's Trust and Library was erected. University Hall (the still appears above the entrance) was designed as a hall of residence ns of nonconformists attending University College, and was subsequently l with Manchester New (Theological) College. It was purchased by Villiams's Trustees in 1890, when Manchester College established itself in d.

is hoped to arrange a small exhibition of papers and documents to emorate the centenary of this landmark in the history of civil and ous liberty.

HOLARSHIPS.—In the Divinity Scholarships examination in September, Mr. Norman R. Kingston, of Regent's Park College, Oxford, was awarded olarship of £85 per annum for two years, and Mr. H. Wynne Griffith, stminster College, Cambridge, an Exhibition of £70 for one year.

LLETIN.—Once again we must express our regret for the delay in the of the present number of the Bulletin. With a view to getting up to gain it is proposed to issue one double number for 1944 towards the the year.
